

It is not probable that either Mr. Daggett, Mr. Powning or Mr. Wren will be elected United States Senator by the next Legislature of Nevada. They are all good men but have not sufficient money to play in a game of this kind. The real contest for the office will probably take place between Senator Fair and ex-Senator Stewart, with the odds in favor of the former; Mr. Fair's purse being the longest, while Mr. Stewart is the ablest politician. It is reported that the latter is backed by the Southern Pacific Company, a report which we doubt. Mr. Fair is backed by no one, except coin, unless Governor Adams has consented to act as his chaperon. It is claimed by some of the wise men of the west that neither Mr. Daggett, Mr. Powning nor Mr. Wren are in earnest in their professed intentions to make a fight for the Senatorial office, but that each one of the three is "playing it low down" for the nomination for Governor.—Virginia City Occasional.

CLEVELAND'S RENOMINATION. — The President's civil service policy has created some opposition to him, but this opposition will disappear before the time of choosing another candidate arrives. Even if he makes no more removals, and confines himself to filling vacancies, every important office in the country will be occupied by a Democrat when the time for selecting delegates arrives. All the office-holders—and they will be mainly party-workers—will favor his renomination because his re-election will mean their retention in office. With all the office-holders working for him, it will be a most difficult matter for any one to beat him for the nomination.—Savannah News.

Gen. Scott and McClellan.

The San prints a hitherto unpublished letter dated October 4, 1861, signed by Gen. Winfield Scott and addressed to Secretary Cameron. In it Scott complains of McClellan's persistent disobedience of orders in communicating with the President instead of through him. This was done in the face of a general order, and another order, calling for a report as to the disposition of the troops of the Army of the Potomac, was entirely ignored. Scott closed as follows: "Has a senior no corrective power over a junior officer in cases of such persistent neglect and disobedience? The remedy of court-martial would probably soon cure the evil, but it has been feared that a conflict of authority near the head of the army would be highly encouraging to the enemies and depressing to the friends of the Union. Hence, my long forbearance. Though but nominally on duty, I shall try to hold out until the arrival of Major-General Halleck, when, as his presence will give me increased confidence in the safety of the Union, I shall definitely retire from the army." Scott retired on October 31, 1861.

Nominee for Chief Justice Rejected.

In the executive session Wednesday the Senate rejected the nomination of J. O. Shields for Chief Justice of Arizona. Shields hails from Alpena, Mich., and is a friend of Montgomery, the Commissioner of Patents, whose influence aided in securing his nomination. Judge Howard, the late incumbent was, it is said, removed through Mormon influence, and Shields' rejection was intended in some measure as a rebuke to the President for allowing Howard to be punished for his activity against Mormonism. There were other reasons, however. Charges of incompetency were filed by leading Democrats, and so well sustained that Senator Pugh, of Alabama, presented a report recommending his rejection.

Federal Salaries Cut Down.

The amendments to the Appropriation bill, adopted in Committee of the Whole, to retain the present salary of the sub-Treasurer at San Francisco at $5,000, and the salary of District Judge Hoffman at $5,000, were rejected by the House, and the salaries were cut down to $4,500 for the sub-Treasurer and $4,000 for the Judge. The salary of the sub-Treasurer at St. Louis was also cut down to $4,000 from $4,500.

Wedding Gift.

President Cleveland, in a letter, expresses the sincere thanks of himself and Mrs. Cleveland for the magnificent wedding gift received from the citizens of Charleston. The present consisted of a massive silver vase, accompanied by a letter to Mrs. Cleveland, saying that it was intended as a token of the high esteem in which President Cleveland was held in Charleston, "by reason of his ability, his true manliness and his constant fidelity to his obligations under the Constitution and laws of these reunited States."

There are indications that the Civil Service debate of last week has not been wholly barren of results. It is stated that the President intends to modify the Civil Service rules so as to remove the forty-five-years' limit of eligibility and to provide that a larger number than four candidates shall be certified to the appointing officer when a vacancy occurs. The Democrats are gratified at the prospect of the door being opened a little wider.

The bond of Clarence Greathouse, Consul-General to Japan, has been filed at the State Department. It is for $5,000 and bears the names of Senators Fair and Hearst. The San Francisco member of Congress certifies on his honor that he believes these two men are good for that amount.

An Election Review.
The Call says members of Congress this year are to be chosen in all the States, and several Republican journals express confidence that the party will be able, by its gains, to reverse the political complexion of the House of Representatives. They are encouraged by the belief that many disappointed office-seeking Democrats are disappointed with the administration, and from the favorable results of some of the elections recently held.

In the House at the present time the Democrats have 183 and the Republicans 140 members. This leaves the Republicans a Democratic majority of 43 to overcome. The terms of twenty-two Senators expire March 3, 1887. The Senate has now forty-two Republican and thirty-four Democratic members. The terms of Sherman and Logan expire at that date. Both, however, have been re-elected. Senator Mahone, of Virginia, who will go out of office on the 31 of March, 1887, has already been succeeded by Mr. Daniel. Fourteen of the Senators who retire from the Senate on the 3d of next March are Republicans and nine Democrats.

SENATORIAL OFFICE FOR SALE.

Virginia City "Occasional."

The advertisement printed in another column offering for sale to the highest bidder for cash the office of United States Senator for Nevada, although intended as a satire, merely emphasizes a fact that has long been patent to residents of this State. Disguise it as many persons may, lament it as moralists will, the fact that the office of United States Senator for Nevada is periodically for sale cannot be truthfully gainsaid. Since the Senatorial campaign of 1872 what poor man, what man of moderate means, has entered the Senatorial arena? If then the office is for sale, why not boldly and publicly make known the fact, and, by calling the attention of millionaires of other States to the matter, endeavor to obtain by means of competition all the office is worth. As the office gives a man a social standing which no private station can give there will always be those who will be desirous to obtain it. The Senatorial Committee, whose name is attached to the advertisement, although they have no legal right to sell the office will no doubt pay into the State Treasury all moneys received on account of the matter.

We acknowledge that the practice of selling the Senatorial office offers little encouragement for the ambitious poor men of this State who have served their party through good and evil reports for many years. But we can see no help for them in the near future. Nothing but a revolution will change the situation, and a revolution of the poor against the rich the Occasional cannot advocate, at least just now. We fear that the ambitious poor men of this State will have to wait until they become heart-sick before the people elect them, on merit alone, to the United States Senate.

Ohio State Journal (Rep.): The people of Ohio, who have seen the vicious results for two years of public servants daubed with boodle, are becoming impatient over the Payne case in the United States Senate. If Congress adjourns before definite action is taken in this matter, the auction of seats in the Senate for the next session will be officially announced.

By later and more reliable information the Tribune learns that John Mad-drill, of the Austin Reville, will not be a candidate for State Printer, but has aspirations for a county office in Lander. This narrows the fight down to Harlow and Eckley, with the indications favorable to Harlow.—Casson Tribune.

In a speech at Reno the other evening, ex-Senator Stewart, who wants to succeed Fair, said that "a boy raised in Nevada is worth two raised in Sacramento Valley." Stewart may not have much of a sack, but his supply of blarney is likely to hold out for all demands of the campaign.—Sac. Bee.

The story in the news of the day, to the effect that General Logan has been making spiteful remarks about Blaine, is probably untrue. Logan has been in politics long enough to know how to govern his tongue. Nothing could injure him more than to sneer at Blaine.—Sac. Bee.

It is understood that General Rosecrans would like to be appointed Chief of the Coast Survey, and it is believed that he stands a good show for the place.

SENATORS AS LOBBYISTS.

The San Francisco Chronicle truly remarks:

Messrs. Edmunds, Evarts, Teller, Cameron, Dawes, Hoar, Mitchell, of Oregon; Sawyer, and Sewell did their political party no service in voting against the bill to prohibit Senators from accepting money as counsel fees from railroad corporations. They would have done a much wiser thing to have voted with Sherman, Blair, Chase, Cul-lum, Frye, Harrison, McPherson, Miller, Morrill, Plumb and Wilson, of Iowa, who agreed with the Democrats on this question. It was an impolitic act to say nothing of its unsoundness in point of principle.

All men, except this handful of Senators, perceive the impropriety of a Senator who has to sit in judgement on the rights of railroad companies to land grants, and to exclusive privileges in the matter of transportation, accepting money from those companies. There is no possible justification for the practice. It is only one remove from the acceptance of a bribe by a Judge or a jurymen. Being human, the salaried counsel of companies cannot be indifferent to measures which tend to injure their clients, nor can they impatiently try an issue between those clients and the people. It is asking too much of a Senator who has a railroad check in his pocket to arbitrate between the railroad and its assailants. No honest man wants to be placed in any such position.

Such men as Edmunds and Evarts are eminent lawyers, and it is natural that railroad companies should retain them as counsel. It would be perfectly right and proper that they should accept retainers from companies if they were not members of the Senate. No lawyer is hurt by becoming a corporation counsel. But having elected to serve the public, whose interests are constantly clashing with those of corporations, they should feel that delicacy forbids them to accept practice which is inconsistent with the faithful discharge of their duty to the public. It is not creditable to the fine sense of honor which should characterize the Senate of the United States that there should have been any debate at all on Beck's motion.

Hawley's dexterous dodge—voting for the bill in order to move a reconsideration, and so bawling up the resolution for an indefinite period—may kill the reform for this session. But Senators may as well understand that the people have made up their minds on the subject, and that any Senator who hereafter appears in court as counsel for a land-grant railroad will be assumed as a matter of course to be a railroad lobbyist in disguise. How this will effect existing reputations it is needless for us to point out.

THE BELCHER HOISTING WORKS.—The dismaying of the Belcher hoisting works has been stopped by order of Superintendent Jones. The issuance of the order was due to the fact that the foundation of the double-hoist engine at the Crown Point shaft has settled to a greater extent than the first inspection disclosed. If it should settle more after the double-hoist engine is in line again the Crown Point works will be abandoned and the Belcher started up. In that event the ore extracted from both mines will be hoisted to the surface through that shaft instead of the Crown Point as heretofore. The foundation of the hoist engine at the Belcher works and the shaft are in excellent condition, and it will require but a short time to get steam up when once it is decided to abandon operations through the Crown Joint shaft. So says the Virginia Chronicle.

A BOY WATCHED.—The Battle Mountain Central Nevada says: "Jim, son of J. A. Blossom, has received a handsome present of a silver watch and chain, with his name handsomely engraved on the same, from his friend Capt. J. F. Alexander, of Reno. Jim says 'he's a good man.'"

BATHING NOTICE.—Almost every one takes a bath now and then, but the most luxurious of all baths is a sun bath. Get on the sunny side of the house in the morning and let the sun warm you up, and you will feel good all day. A sun bath in the morning is the best appetizer and health promoter in the world.

STATIONING THE TROOPS.

Changes to be Made in the Department of California and Arizona.

Major-General Howard, in general orders, has just announced the new stations of the First and Eighth Infantry, in the departments of California and Arizona, respectively, the removal beginning July 1st. The First Infantry will take stations as follows: Colonel William R. Shafter and regimental staff and band at Angel Island, San Francisco, with Companies E (Capt. Hamilton) and F (Capt. Parker); Lieut. Col. Charles G. Bartlett, with Companies A (Capt. Heiner) and D (Capt. Callinano) at Benicia Barracks; Major Ed. Collins with Companies C (Capt. Tisdall) and G (Capt. Pierce) at the Presidio of San Francisco; Company B (Capt. Dougherty) at Fort Gaston, Cal.; Company H (Capt. Armstrong) at Fort Halleck, Nev.; Company I (Capt. Markland) at San Diego Barracks, Cal.; and Company K (Capt. Scott) at Fort McDermitt, Nev. The Eighth Infantry takes stations as follows: Col. August V. Kautz, with staff, band and Companies F (Wilhelm) and H (Wells) at Fort Grant, A. T.; Lieut. Col. Montgomery Bryant, with Company G (Capt. Earnest) at Fort McDowell; Major Andrews S. Burt and Companies D (Capt. Bailey) and K (Capt. Worth), Fort Huachuca; Company A (Capt. Whitney), Fort Bowie; Company B (Captain Porter), Fort Lowell; Company C (Capt. Corlies), Fort Mojave; Company E (Capt. Savage), Fort Apache, and Company I (Capt. Winslow) at Fort Verde, A. T. No infantry has been stationed at the Presidio for many years.

The Only One.

The only female member of the Grand Army, is Mrs. E. R. Howe, of New York. She acted as one of the aides-de-camp in the Memorial Day procession in that city. At the breaking out of the war she enlisted as a drummer, was wounded at Fredericksburg, afterward threw aside her drum and shouldered a musket, and marched and fought with the regiment, and was dangerously wounded at Lookout Mountain. She is a fine horsewoman and can handle a sabre like a cavalierman.

WALKER RIVER FAIR.—Under date of the 10th, Secretary Smith communicates the following: "A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Walker Lake Agricultural Association was held at Greenfield, Mason Valley, on June 6th to arrange for our Annual Fair to be held on the grounds of the Association this coming Fall. More interest is manifested than usual by our citizens, and although our Fairs have always been a success, we expect that our various exhibits this year will far surpass all heretofore made by our people, and not be excelled in quality even by our State Fair. Nearly one thousand dollars has been guaranteed by subscriptions from citizens in our immediate neighborhood. Our race track is good and a little further outlay will make it as good as any in the State, and the liberal purses we will be enabled to offer will be an inducement for sporting men to visit us."

RENO STRAWBERRIES.—A. J. Smith, formerly fast freight agent, Constable, etc., in this city, is now a flourishing rancher on the Truckee Meadows, three or four miles below Reno. He says he has raised some of the largest strawberries this year anybody ever saw, averaging the size of walnuts, and some of them nearly as big as hen's eggs—strawberries that have to be halved and quartered in order to eat them properly—yet they are full flavored and delicious, like all Reno or Truckee Meadow strawberries.—Enterprise.

SUICIDE.—J. C. Currie, the well-known auctioneer at Virginia City committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself through the head. Financial embarrassments are assigned as the cause.

By sinking artesian wells near Colton to the depth of from sixty-five to seventy-five feet an abundance of water for irrigating purposes is brought to the surface. This is a gratifying discovery. While it had been generally known that water in abundance could be obtained almost anywhere in the State by artesian wells, many had formed the impression that in some portions, particularly in the southern part of the State, it would be necessary to go to a considerable depth, and thus largely increase the expense. The results obtained about Colton disprove this. The expense of well a hundred feet or under is small, while the benefits derived from them are incalculable, and every year is more clearly demonstrating that upon the artesian well depends the development of certain portions of the State. Quite recently it has been discovered that the soil of our "deserts" is very fertile and only needs water to turn these wastes into gardens. This shows the important part which these wells are destined to play in opening the State to settlement. Because running streams are not always to be found, the immigrant should not turn aside from an otherwise desirable tract of land. An inexpensive artesian well or two will furnish him an inexhaustible supply of water, sufficient to meet all his demands.—S. F. Call.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-awt-lyr
